

FUN FACTS ABOUT FISH

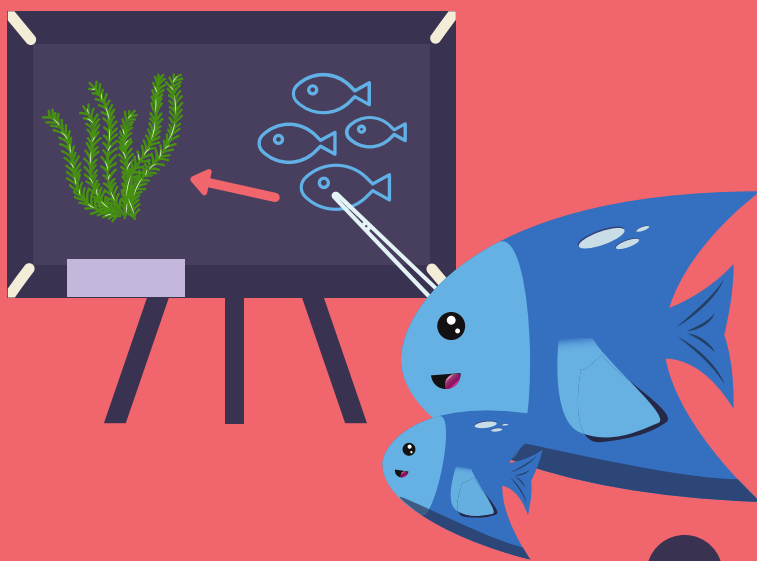

Contrary to the rumor that fish only have a few second memory, studies have shown fish have great memories. One study revealed fish could remember and distinguish between human faces!

Many fish have a great sense of spatial awareness. Think of having a map in your head of the layout of your house. Of course, their home area looks a little different!

Did you know that fish learn from each other and important information can actually be passed down through generations?

Hey there!

Fish talk?! Depending on the species, fish may rub bones together, grind teeth, vibrate their swim bladder, or flex their muscles a certain way to make noise and communicate specific things to others.
